OUR JOCKEYS IN ENGLAND.

One of the most interesting features of the late thoroughbred racing season in England has been furnished by the signal success of American jockeys. Although four places removed from the head of the winning list James "Tod" Sloan overshadowed his rival artists in the important matter of percentage. He won 108 times out of 345 mounts, or at the ratio of about one in three. Only for a long suspension in the middle of the season for disobedience at the post Sloan would probably have left off with pride of place in the tabulated summary of the most successful riders. Starter Coventry's discipline forced the little American to cancel a number of promising engagements at the Liverpool, Goodwood and other big meetings in July and August, but he made up so much leeway when he got going again that he crowded the four native stars closely.

Sloan's principal achievements were on Sibola in the One Thousand Guineas, Dominic II. in the New Market Stakes, Knight of the Thistle in the Jubilee Stakes and Democrat in his remarkable series of two-year-old triumphs. His worst run of luck was at Derby and Manchester, where he rode nineteen successive losers, but this slump only emphasizes the fact that his other work must have been little short of phenomenal to land him in the high place he held when the curtain dropped.

Sloan's most formidable rival was Sam Loates, who, in racing parlance, "put it on Tod" in several of the hottest finishes of the campaign. Loates had the advantage of 731 mounts, more than twice Sloan's allotment, and of these he brought home 160, the highest total of wins reached. O. Madden wound up next to Loates, with 130 wins out of 807 mounts, and Mornington Cannon came third in order, with a winning string of 120 out of 468, a percentage only excelled by that of Sloan and L. Reiff. Tom Loates, who split Madden and Cannon at the head of the list in 1898, dropped down two pegs this year, barely nosing Sloan out of fourth place with a winning total of 112 out of 693 attempts.

While Sloan did so well in maintaining his prestige he did not monopolize all the honors credited to the Yankee school of riding. Lester Reiff gets the fine percentage of 55 wins out of 184 mounts, and his younger brother, Johnny, found his way to the front 27 times out of 140 essays. The latter for a time threatened to supplant Sloan in popular estimation. His youth and diminutive size caused general amazement when he first appeared, but this sentiment quickly changed to admiration as the tiny lad showed in race after race that he knew the shortest way to the winning post and possessed all the nerve, strength and skill to get there. Little Reiff is the bantam weight of Lord William Beresford's powerful stable, and while Sloan was away during the summer the midge filled the gap so effectively that his future is assured.

The elder Reiff took much longer to attain the creditable place he now occupies. He had been riding in England with only moderate success since Enoch Wishard took him over a few years ago. During the past season, however, the increasing demand for American riders brought him into prominence and he filled his engagements so well, especially at the autumn meetings, that he is now pointed out by the critics as one of the most desirable jockeys to be booked for the coming year.

While the three American riders already named were revolutionizing old theories among the Saxons, "Skeets" Martin put in an appearance. He had not been very successful with Gideon & Daly here, his efforts on the crack two-year-old His Royal Highness being so poor that his contract was canceled by mutual agreement. His English debut was signalized by brilliant victories, but just as he was about being hailed as the best of the "imported" contingent he struck an unlucky vein and ceased to be a contending factor in the struggle for riding supremacy. His percentage, however, compared favorably with that of the most noted British jockeys, as he scored an average of one win in every four mounts, which brought him on a level with Mornington Cannon.—New York Sun.

NEW ORLEANS TRACK TALK.

"Curley" Brown was at the track Thursday, and there was some surprise expressed that he should be allowed on the grounds, on account of his having been ruled off for life by the Newport officials. The case of Mulholland, in San Francisco, was taken by the New Orleans officials as a precedent, and they decided not to enforce the rule this year. However, they will have no choice in the matter after January 1, as a new rule of the turf congress, passed last fall, and which will go in force after the first of next year, declares that any track harboring or allowing on its grounds any ruled-off person shall become outlawed itself.

Captain Rees did a little effective business yesterday by suspending A. J. Wallace, the owner and trainer of the sturdy mudlark, George Lee, pending an investigation of the suspicious running of the horse in his last two races. Jockey Sheppard, who rode George Lee December 9, was also suspended pending investigation. George Kneuker, owner of Satan, was given a fine for inconsistency in the use of spurs on his colt. Captain Rees can be depended on to straighten out a good many gnarly racing kinks before the New Orleans meeting closes.

Said a lady to her friend in the grand stand Friday as the horses were filing out on their way to the post in the third race: "Oh! just look at that splendid-looking grey horse!" referring to Pat Cleburne. "I'm just going to put a bet on him because his color is just too lovely for anything, and his jockey's jacket is so becoming!" And she did, and he won.—New Orleans Picayune.

Pat Cleburne will soon make his appearance in the jumping events. He was schooled over the Full Course twice on Thursday morning and went over it once Friday morning and performed very creditably. With the speed which he has displayed on the flat he ought to cut quite a figure over the obstacles, providing he can carry weight.

J. W. Colt, an eastern turfman and member of the Genesee Hunt Club, purchased, Thursday, from Frank Frisbie, the three-year-old colt Chancery, by Chance—Outscramble, and has turned him over to Johnny McCafferty to train. Mr. Colt intends to use him as a hunter.

Wood Hoffman, who trains Molo and Lobengula, has decided to let up on the former for a while, and give him a chance to freshen up. Molo has been on the go almost constantly since the opening of the Newport spring meeting, and is certainly entitled to a rest.

Ex-Jockeys Willie Ham and Johnny Lamley, owners of Mizpah and Benneville, the two best horses of the older division which have shown thus far at the meeting, intend to take them east next season. Mizpah is, or will be, entered in the Brooklyn Handicap.

Alex's race Friday was in the nature of a trial for the Preliminary Derby next week. He made a very good showing, but only carried 103 pounds.

Off at the first break to a good start. The first three were hard at it. Walkenshaw was the best and should have won. Ralph anchored him in the heaviest going on the inside in the last sixteenth. Dupee on Good Order was over confident at the end and Tillie W. ripped him in the last stride. It was a lucky win for her. Estaca showed speed. George Lee ran a dull race.

tions for their application and expert comment.

RACING FORM'S SELECTIONS.

DAILY RACING FORM has no private information. It seeks none. Its calculations over the horses as they are grouped daily at various racetracks are purely those of general performance and ability as shown by the records and the application and knowledge of its editors and the reports of its correspondents. These calculations are printed daily. Nothing is hidden. All that the staff of the paper knows is put into type. If the selections made nightly are sought by persons outside the daily delivery lines of the paper they will be sent by Western Union night rate messages (collect) at $5 per track per week. Such service is not solicited, but if it is considered valuable, will be performed.

NOTICE.

DAILY RACING FORM is a publication which is built by its staff from day to day. Its "form" and the numbers of its charts are copyrighted.
The chart numbers are so arranged that legal identification is easy of proof. The selections and handicap figures attached to entries are arranged on the same basis. The latter come from the work of four experts after the telegraphic receipt of charts and entries. All persons are warned not to use said chart or index numbers, selections or handicap figures.

Post 1 minute. Start fair. Won easily; second the same. The Lady went the shortest way around and was much the best. Prestome got away flying and tired badly in the last furlong. Fine Shot ran his race. Billy Moore showed speed but will probably do better on a dry track. He is a fine looker and will do to watch when the track is fast.
Overweights—Fine Shot, 2 pounds; Billy Moore, 2.

Winner—Ch. g, by Idalium—Glitter.
Post 2 minutes. Start good. Won easily; the next two were driving. Aluminum showed far the most speed and thoroughly liked the going. Rosalbra is a "mudder," but not so speedy as the winner. Panamint ran a little better than when last out but is not of much account and lacks courage. Skirmish closed resolutely. Espirano was speedy but was overweighted.

Winner—Ch. f, by Montana Regent—Geneva.
Post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Chimura was waited with for five furlongs then came on and won like a good filly. Jolly Briton liked the going and distance and ran a good race. St. Apollinaris was tired out in chasing Ziska but probably does not like a mile anyhow. Orabee was bumped soon after passing the half and closed fast after recovering his stride. Ziska did well for six furlongs then fell back.
Chimura, place, 2 to 5; show, out. Jolly Briton, place, 5 to 1; show, 2 to 1. St. Apollinaris, place, 4 to 5; show, 2 to 5.

Winner—Br. c, by Pirate of Penzance—Miss Thomas.
Post 2 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Malay shot from last to first place in less than a quarter and held the field safe thereafter. Marcato ran a fair race. Meadowthorpe was making up ground at the finish. Casdale did well for six furlongs, and is not good at much over that distance. Forte seemingly did not like the mud.
Scratched—15998 Morinel, 104.
Malay, place, 2 to 5; show, out. Marcato, place, 3 to 2; show, 1 to 2. Meadowthorpe, place, 4 to 5; show, 2 to 5.

Winner—B. h, by Pardes—Caprice.
Post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second in a drive. Wyoming passed Imperious three furlongs from home and was never thereafter in serious trouble. Imperious was tired out in going a fast first five furlongs. Montanus weakened in the last few yards when seeming to have second place safe. The others were never factors in the hunt.
Overweights—Montanus, 2 pounds.
Wyoming, place, 7 to 10; show, out. Imperious, place, 2 to 5; show, out. Mantanus, show, 3 to 5.

Winner—B. c, by Getaway—Marietta.
Post 1 minute. Start good. Won in a hard drive of two. King Carnival showed the most speed of the lot after going the first quarter and liked the mud. Moringa finished in the gamest fashion and was gaining at the wind-up. Pat Morrissey showed some early speed, but looks thin and runs as if stale. Mike Rice showed some speed, but was outclassed.
Scratched—16063 Gysar, 101.
Overweights—Mike Rice, 2 pounds.
King Carnival, place, 13 to 20; show, out. Moringa, place, 6 to 5; show, 2 to 5. Pat Morrissey, place, out.
